

Easter events in New Orleans

7 ways to celebrate

click to enlarge

Photo by Cheryl Gerber

The Gay Easter Parade begins at 4:30 p.m. Sunday in the French Quarter.

Bunarchy. Marie's, 2483 Burgundy St., (504) 267-5869 — The Easter-themed bar crawl visits locations in Faubourg Marigny and Bywater. Registration $10. 6 p.m. Saturday.

Chris Owens French Quarter Easter Parade. French Quarter — Entertainer Chris Owens is the grand marshal of the Easter parade. 1 p.m. Sunday.

Easter Egg Hunt & Bonnet Decorating Contest. Indian Hills Resort, 2484 Gause Blvd W, Slidell, (985) 641-9998 — At the clothing-optional club, there's a 1 p.m. egg hunt and a bonnet decorating contest during karaoke at 8 p.m. Registration $28-$38. 1 p.m. Saturday.

Easter Eggstravaganza. Joe W. Brown Park, 5601 Read Blvd., (504) 355-7175; www.friendsofjoebrownpark.org — Kids enjoy an egg hunt, carnival games, inflatables, raffles and music. Bring a basket. Free admission. 11 a.m. Saturday.

Easter Keg Hunt. Press Street Gardens, 7 Press St., (504) 940-2914; www.nocca.com — NOLA Brewing and Gulf Restoration Network host the Easter-themed scavenger hunt and pub crawl. Tickets $20-$25. 1 p.m. to 7 p.m. Saturday.

Gay Easter Parade. French Quarter – The Easter parade celebrates the LGBT community. 4:30 p.m. Sunday.

Historic French Quarter Easter Parade. Antoine's Restaurant, 713 St. Louis St., (504) 581-4422; www.antoines.com – The parade rolls to St. Louis Cathedral. 9:45 a.m. Sunday.

RELATED

Blakeview: Merlin Candies

The company behind Merlin's chocolate bunnies was founded in 1947
BLAKE PONTCHARTRAIN: NEW ORLEANS TRIVIA

Related Stories

Terrifying humanoid bunny to appear at Audubon Zoo April 14

Behold its furry paws and cold, dead eyes.
by Kat Stromquist

Blakeview: Merlin Candies

The company behind Merlin's chocolate bunnies was founded in 1947

Tweet

Pin it

Email

Favorite

Share

Speaking of...

Blakeview: FDR visits New Orleans
Apr 24, 2017

What people are saying about the overnight Confederate-era monument removal in New Orleans
Apr 24, 2017

Five in 5: new outdoor dining spots in New Orleans
Apr 17, 2017

More »